

Paediatric Autism Communication Therapy (PACT) Training Course

PACT training and certification is designed for allied health professionals to provide communication support for parents and caregivers of young children with autism. The evidence-based approach helps parents and caregivers understand and communicate more effectively with their child by promoting the development of social communication.

Level One - Introductory training

A half-day independent e-learning program which covers the theory behind PACT and begins to introduce PACT concepts. Delegates must complete Level One training before beginning Level Two - PACT practitioner training.

Level Two - PACT professional certified virtual training

This level consists of four half-days of virtual training with a PACT trainer covering the core principles and the current evidence for PACT, demonstrating the model in use through video. The training also provides opportunities for practical application of the concepts through role play and small breakout discussions. Training is followed by group and individual post-course supervision and support to complete the post-course fidelity requirements. Completion of Level 2 and the accompanying post-course work will qualify the professional to administer PACT.

A Level 2 PACT accreditation certificate is issued to professionals who complete both Level 1 and Level 2 PACT training.

Who can attend?

Allied health professionals, para-professionals, and other related service providers.
